

GLENFIELD EDUCATIONAL PRECINCT

INVESTING IN THE FUTURE FOR SOUTH WESTERN SYDNEY

South Western Sydney – An educational vision for the future

Students from South Western Sydney are set to benefit from a significant investment in public education infrastructure. More than $130 million will be invested to upgrade 7 schools and build 2 new schools.

The Glenfield educational precinct

The Department of Education will invest over $30 million to boost educational provision in Glenfield to meet the needs of current and future families.

The 4 schools in the precinct will provide a diverse educational provision to meet the growing demand for gifted and talented and special needs education to help all children reach their potential.

Glenfield Selective High School

- School upgrade.
- Capacity for over 1000 academically gifted students.
- Fully equipped facilities.

Provision for a primary school

- Land set aside for the future development of a primary school.
- Capacity to enrol up to 1000 students.

Special needs education

- Ajuga school, Campbell House School, Glenfield Park School all upgraded.
- Capacity at each school will increase from 7 classes to 9 classes.

GLENFIELD EDUCATIONAL PRECINCT – QUICK FACTS

- ✓ Fully serviced 7-12 selective high school.
- ✓ Land reserved for a new primary school site.
- ✓ Three upgraded schools for specific purposes.
- ✓ New facilities will include: touch sensitive screens, writable walls, breakout pods, flexible learning spaces and full WiFi connectivity.
- ✓ Playing fields and outdoor learning spaces providing students with enriching and diverse learning experiences.

Glenfield educational precinct

*Final location of primary school to be determined

Upgrades across South Western Sydney

In addition to the creation of the Glenfield Education Precinct, throughout South Western Sydney over the next four years, more than $100 million will be invested to build two new schools and upgrade three primary schools, delivering over 180 new classrooms for around 5000 new enrolments.

Quick facts – Growth in South Western Sydney

The South Western Sydney Growth Corridor

664,000 homes and 689,000 jobs will be generated in the south-west over 20 years.

ONE IN EVERY FIVE additional people living in metro Sydney will be living in the SOUTH WEST SUB-REGION between 2011 and 2031.

